Arc Dream Publishing has a big preview up for The Kerberos Club, the massive sourcebook for superhero roleplaying in Victorian London. The Kerberos Club is written by Benjamin Baugh (Ennie-nominated author of Monsters and Other Childish Things and The Dreadful Secrets of Candlewick Manor) with illustrations by Todd Shearer and Lanny Liu.

The preview is at the Arc Dream blog:

The Kerberos Club was originally conceived as a 128-page book and has had a pre-order price of $24.99 up until now. But in fact it will top out at around 320 pages, so the cover price goes up to $39.99 on August 1. You can still order it at $24.99 only until then.
